

The DPC Lunch & Learns are an opportunity for companies to highlight their expertise and/or products to DPC members and guests. These lunches feature a range of topics including (but not limited to) new technology, geopolitics, and project management. The DPC invites our active members in good standing to sponsor one of these events to leverage their brand to our group of oil and gas and energy professionals.

A lunch and learn sponsorship requires a $2,000* monetary commitment and offers the following marketing benefits:

- Four complimentary admissions to the event with reserved seating for your guests
- Logo inclusion on all event marketing, including electronic invitations, social media, and event page leading up to the event
- Recognition as sponsor at event from podium as well as throughout event space
- Opportunity to display a banner on-site during the event
- Opportunity to distribute promotional items to attendees
- Company and contact information included in post-event thank you to attendees.

2019 Lunch & Learn Schedule:

Available Lunch & Learn dates will be provided by DPC staff and mutually agreed upon by the DPC and sponsor. For the most up-to-date list of events, visit us at DenverPetroleumClub.com.

2019 Lunch & Learn Cost:

The sponsor/presenter will be responsible for paying the DPC $2,000 per event. This allows up to 50 DPC members to attend for free and includes the marketing benefits listed. Additional members and non-members are required to pay $25 per admission.

Corporate members receive a discount on Lunch & Learn sponsorships.*

If you would like to sponsor an event please contact Gabby Richmond, 720.926.9196 or gabby@denverpetroleumclub.com.
